Tampa Bay Dental Assistant School to Open New Facility Jan 2018

Demand for New Dental Jobs

St Petersburg, FL, 12.06.2017, 17:46 Time

USPA NEWS - In today's economy, individuals looking for first time careers or retraining in a different field are finding one job in particular is bringing multiple well-paying offers. Those seeking a career in the healthcare profession and an enjoyable environment can be employed after 6 months of professional training in one of the fastest growing and highly compensated healthcare professions in the nation.

Tampa Bay's leading Dental Assistant Training School has broken ground on a new state-of-the-art facility in order to accommodate the growth of this often overlooked, but lucrative career choice. The new high-tech learning center will be opening in the same city in the first quarter of 2018.

It's normal for a class to have participants from as far away as Pensacola, Miami, Orlando and Fort Myers due to the blended format of education in which they deliver their courses that places the didactic portion of the course online via their website. This is very convenient for the student as they only have to attend the class in person for the clinical hands-on portion of the course allowing for flexibility around the students schedule.
